Withdrawal from Mideast Possible Under New Plan

Crowds Throng Kinsmen Gorge Park

Crowds thronged the Kinsmen Gorge Park, on the Esquimalt side of the Gorge west of Tillicum, last night for opening program of three-day "christening" ceremonies at the new play area and warm salt water swimming pool. Product of months of work by Esquimalt engineer John Graeme and crews and Kinsmen members, the park, first of its kind on the revitalized Gorge waterway in decades, was largely financed by Victoria Kinsmen. Hammarskjold Would Make All Security Arrangements

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States drummed up support yesterday for a plan which would send UN Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to the Middle East to work out security arrangements permitting early withdrawal of U.S. forces from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was trying to enlist wider support among various countries for a proposal, not yet introduced, by Norwegian Foreign Minister Hans Engen.

SIX OR SEVEN NATIONS

Engen was reported to have lined up six or seven nations as co-sponsors of the resolution, which would instruct Hammarskjold to "make arrangements forthwith" for the UN to safeguard peace in the Middle East.

The United States was pushing for early introduction of the resolution, but indications were it would not be formally unveiled until Monday or Tuesday. Hammarskjold, Dulles, Engen and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd held a 90-minute strategy huddle late this afternoon. They were in their private session when the assembly adjourned for the weekend at 4.15 p.m. EDT.

ARABIANS SERVE NOTICE

Saudi Arabia, meanwhile, served notice that it wanted no part of President Eisenhower's sweeping Middle East development plan if it involved giving up some of King Saud's oil revenues.

Saudi Arabia was reported rapidly improving its once-strained relations with President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic. UN delegate Ahmed Shukairy warned the west that there would be no peace in the Middle East until the French pulled out of all North Africa, the British quit the Arabian Peninsula and "American Zionism" left Palestine.

Meanwhile, Japan's smiling, white-thatched foreign minister, Aiichiro Fujiyama, who arrived after a hurried trip from Tokyo, appeared to be emerging as a dominant Asian voice seeking compromise between the west and the Soviet-Arab bloc on the thorny question of how to get Allied troops out of the Middle East and save face all around.

Fujiyama pursued his peace making role both in the assembly and in private talks with Dulles and foreign ministers Andrei Gromyko of Russia and Mahmoud Fawzi of the U.A.R. He met Dulles last night, Fawzi this morning and Gromyko this afternoon.

Fujiyama told the delegates of the assembly in a 10-minute address that the "extended stationing of American and British forces in these countries (Lebanon and Jordan) may invite undesirable consequences" and added that "one false step by a world leader may bring mankind to total annihilation."

Rescue Attempt Fails

City Rug Cleaner Collapses, Dies At His Work

A 20-year-old man collapsed and died early yesterday while using a volatile synthetic solvent to clean rugs in a city furniture store.

An inhalator from Victoria fire brigade was used unsuccessfully for some time in an attempt to revive Robert Ramsay, 950 Richmond, who was found collapsed with his face in a pool of carbon-tetrachloride about 12.47 p.m.

Ramsay was employed at Humber's Furniture Store, 1118 Langley Street. He was cleaning rugs with the solvent in the rear of the premises.

LIVED AT HOME

Ramsay was single and lived at home with his parents and his brother, Peter, 15.

Harry L. Mitchell, 843 Madison, and Robert Allison, 4141 Carey Road, two employees of the firm, found Ramsay about 12.40 p.m. with his face in a pool of the solvent.

They dragged him to the top of the stairs leading into the building from the street, where the inhalator crew found him.

CLEANING RUGS

Ramsay was last seen alive by another employee of the firm, Richard Harwood, 2662 Fernwood, as he was cleaning the rugs.

Police notified Ramsay's father, John Ramsay, a city employee who works in Beacon Hill Park. Alex Johnson, park foreman, drove Mr. Ramsay home after he was treated by a doctor.

The body was taken to Sands' Mortuary. An inquest has been set for 10 a.m. Tuesday by city coroner Dr. E. C. Hart.

130-Foot Drop Kills Child

Hand-in-Hand Mother, Girl Go Over Falls

BANFF, Alta. (CP) — An Edmonton mother and her six-year-old daughter plunged over a 130-foot waterfall in the Rocky Mountains near this resort Friday. The child was killed.

Mrs. Joseph Kischuk dropped into a deep pool at the base of the falls and managed to swim clear. She suffered only minor injuries.

The girl, Cheryl Anne, fell to her death and her body was not recovered until two hours later.

RCMP said the accident happened after the mother and daughter had walked to the upper falls in Johnston Canyon, about 16 miles west of here.

They believe the two went beyond a protective barrier. Mrs. Kischuk was holding her daughter's hand when they slipped and fell into the creek.

Both were hurled over the falls in a sheer drop of 130 feet into a deep pool. The mother struggled out but the child's body was not recovered by police and park wardens until two hours later.

The national park tragedy follows one week after the death of a seven-year-old Calgary girl who was mauled to death by a bear in Jasper National Park, extending north of the Banff park.

Banned Goods List Cut

Canada Eyes Red Trade

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada plans to boost her trade links with Russia following the slash by the Western powers in the list of strategic goods banned from Communist trade, it was learned Friday.

For the first time, a Canadian trade commissioner's office may be opened in Moscow this fall, to be followed by consideration as to whether other offices should be opened later in other parts of the Communist world.

In addition, it is understood Trade Minister Churchill will give thought to making an extended tour of overseas countries during the next four months and may include stopovers in Russia and perhaps in Communist China.

INCREASING SHARE

Informants said all this would be part of a Canadian drive to obtain an increasing share of the Red market, particularly in view of the possibility the embargo-slash will lead to stiffening competition among Western powers in exports to the Communists.

The embargo cut was mapped out by Canada and 14 allies during four months of Paris discussion. The new list, not binding but serving as a guide to individual countries, is about 50 per cent smaller than a similar embargo drawn up in 1954.

CUT OFF LIST

Cut off the list were such things as civilian planes, ocean liners and ball bearings, all types of non-military vehicles, aluminum, copper, jet engine fuel, turbines and generators.

Mr. Churchill will inform Parliament, perhaps in the next few days, how Canada will reduce her own list in line with the new guide.

Stock Split Authorized For Pipeline

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons Friday passed by a vote of 97 to 7 a bill authorizing a five-for-one stock split by Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company.

Six CCF members and one government supporter opposed the measure. The negative vote on the government side was cast by Edwin W. Brunsden (PC-Medicine Hat).

Next Festival Shaping Up

Mainland Festival of Arts Hits Target—$100,000 Loss

VANCOUVER (CP) — When the first Vancouver International Festival of the Arts winds up tonight approximately 100,000 will have attended. But festival officials announce there will also be a $100,000 deficit.

Despite this next year's festival already is shaping up for the July 18-Aug. 15 period.

DANCE THEATRE

Headlining next year's program will be the Takarazuka Dance Theatre from Japan, a French-Canadian art exhibit from Quebec and Canadian performers Donald Bell, one of the world's top bass-baritones, cellist Zara Nelsova and violinist Betty-Jean Hagen.

Three Canadian composers have accepted commissions to write works for presentation during the festival period. Harry Sommers will compose a string quartet; Pierre Mercure, now living in Paris, will compose a symphony or symphonic work; and Robert Turner has been asked to write several songs.

Although final arrangements have not been completed, artistic director Nicholas Goldschmidt said the great European conductor, Von Karajan, may conduct at least two concerts for the festival. The Norwegian conductor, Olvin Fjeldstadt, has accepted an invitation to conduct, and Bruno Walter has indicated his interest to return to the festival in 1959.

Also invited to return is Dr. Gunther Rennert, director of this year's festival production of Don Giovanni. Mr. Goldschmidt proposes to produce one of Handel's operas with the original English text, to commemorate the 200th anniversary of the great composer.

Negotiations with the foremost Italian chamber orchestra, I Musici, are well advanced.

On Aug. 16 Mr. Goldschmidt will start out on the first leg of a journey that will take him to Europe and the Far East for artists and groups suitable for festival presentation in coming years.

"We must plan several years in advance if the festival is to continue as an artistic success," Mr. Goldschmidt stated.

Administrative director Peter Bennett said that the deficit for this year's festival was exactly what had been anticipated. Attendance was just over 63 per cent of gross capacity. The festival cost approximately $400,000 to produce and ticket sales as of Thursday stood at $242,483.

STRIKE HURTS

He said the CPR steamship strike had severely curtailed ticket orders from visitors and the hot weather also hurt attendance.

Mr. Bennett said "we are delighted with public reaction. The deficit does not alarm us. We were prepared for it," and he indicated that with private contributions and money from other sources next year's festival would start with money in the bank.

U.S. Denial Correct, He Says

Hamilton Case Collapses

OTTAWA (CP) — Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton's case against the United States appears to have collapsed.

Mr. Hamilton himself in effect conceded this.

In the Commons Thursday, the minister said it was a matter of "national chagrin" that Canadian officials, including cabinet ministers, had to obtain U.S. permission to visit the Canadian Arctic. The U.S. built and controls the DEW radar line in the Canadian North.

Mr. Hamilton added that he was "ashamed" of a situation in which, he said, some Canadian officials had to wait "several months" for U.S. clearance.

He also said he had taken the matter up with Washington and received a "very friendly and favorable" response.

Along came the U.S. state department Friday to say in a statement that Canadians "obviously" are free to travel anywhere in the Canadian Arctic, including DEW line stations, "without clearance from any U.S. authority."

If a Canadian wanted lodging, food, gasoline or other supplies at DEW line sites he must apply through the DEW line co-ordinator, who was a Canadian defence department official in Ottawa.

Mr. Hamilton said Friday in an interview that the state department statement was "quite accurate" and that "new regulations" came into effect July 23, 1958. He identified the co-ordinator as G. Y. Loughead, superintendent of finance in the defence department.

Actually, Mr. Loughead has been co-ordinator for the last few years — or almost since DEW line construction started.

Mr. Hamilton did not refer in the Commons Thursday to what he described as the new regulations.

It was learned authoritatively that the regulations have been in existence since DEW line construction started and were only put on paper and circulated July 23.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

WHO owns the Arctic? It sounds like a cool subject for an August day. However, it has already stirred feverish speculation in Ottawa.

Our perspiring lawmakers are fretting about Yankee advances across Canada's frozen north. And for once, government and opposition are worrying together, in harmony.

Opposition Leader Pearson and Northern Affairs Minister Hamilton seem equally concerned about the Americans who have set up camp on our ice and snow.

Only the Americans preserve a glacial calm. They say we are fretting for nothing, and that Canadians are welcome to enter the north any time they like.

And yet they don't seem sure whether Canada owns the Arctic islands, or not. Certainly, they admit, we own the islands that have people on them.

The unoccupied islands are another matter. American spokesmen say they have never recognized Canadian title to those, because Canada has never asked about them.

Canada would be smart to ask about them right away. Since Mr. Pearson and Mr. Hamilton are in such a brotherly mood, and presumably their colleagues have also declared a truce, they will be able to present a united front.

Frozen Sea Same as Land

Some people feel that we should serve notice on the Americans that we own not only the islands, but the frozen seas up to the North Pole.

Mr. Hamilton himself, when he was in the opposition, argued that grounds for such a claim existed, and should be pushed.

International law says that sea is sea, and land is land. But what happens if the sea is frozen for a great deal of the year? Isn't it very much like land?

The ice does crack and move around. But land cracks and moves around sometimes, too. It's still looked upon as land.

Should Canada lay claim to the ice, too? If so, the American submarine that crossed the pole beneath the ice has tunnelled under a stretch of liquid Canada. And the American stations established on ice island are trespassing on part of Canada that happens to have come adrift.

There are serious things to speculate on, as we stare at the chunks of ice in our ginger ale glasses.

At Least Six Die As Plane Hits On Foggy Island

NANTUCKET, Mass (AP)—At least six persons were killed and 24 injured late Friday night when a Northeast Airlines plane crashed and burst into flames in an attempted instrument landing in fog at Nantucket Island airport.

A total of 33 persons—three crew members and 30 passengers—was reported aboard the plane from New York. The fate of three was unknown.

WOMAN TRAPPED

Nantucket Cottage Hospital reported 23 persons had been admitted alive, though many were in serious condition. A woman was trappped in plane wreckage.

The twin-engined DC-3, en route from New York, crashed about a mile short of the runway during an instrument landing.

Witnesses said the craft burst into flames almost immediately and cut a path some 500 feet through a wooded area.

The trapped woman was pinned under an engine. Rescuers awaited the arrival of a crane to free her more than 90 minutes after the crash.

FIRST ON SCENE

Airport manager Thomas F. Gibson and a neighbor, John Coggins, were the first to reach the scene.

Immediately after the crash the entire island community was alerted to the disaster. A caravan of trucks, jeeps, autos and beach wagons sped to the scene and helped carry the injured to the island's cottage hospital.

The hospital issued an emergency call for doctors and nurses. Several were dispatched from Otis Air Force base in Falmouth on hte mainland.

TWO RELEASED

At least two persons taken to the hospital were released after treatment.

Leroy H. True, hospital superintendent, said many of the injured were in serious condition.

Daughter Hidden, Mother Won't Talk

'Talk, or Stay in Jail'

CHICAGO (UPI) — A young mother refused yesterday to tell a court where she has hidden her little girl and the judge told her she could "stay in jail until you are 90 if you don't."

The judge, Daniel A. Covelli, had sentenced Mrs. Patricia Karam, 26, to six months in jail for spiriting her daughter, Loretta, 9, from the home of her [illegible] Mrs. Margaret Van Ette, last July 27.

Mrs. Karam found a hinding place for Loretta and refused to tell Covelli where it was.

The judge ordered the mother jailed, but called her back into court yesterday in hopes that two nights behind bars had changed her mind.

"Your stubbornness has caused me some loss of sleep," Covelli confessed. "I didn't want to send you to jail. Tell us where the child is and have her brought in you'll go free."

The pale, dark-haired mother shook her head.

"I'd rather stay in jail than give up Loretta," she said. "The thing that worries me is that they might get her while I'm in jail and then I'd be sitting here for nothing."

Covelli felt he had no choice, since Mrs. Van Etten is Loretta's legal guardian.

"All right, be a martyr," the judge said. "You can't take the law into your own hands.

"You can stay in jail until you are 90 if you don't tell us where the child is."

Mrs. Karam listened quietly to the lecture and then a deputy led her back to jail.

Senator Denies Pressure Bid In Big Contract

By JOHN LeBLANC

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal deputy minister of public works Friday accused Senator Sarto Fournier, mayor of Montreal, of trying unsuccessfully to pressure him into giving a public works contract to a high-bidding Montreal firm.

From a vacation spot in Florida, Liberal Senator Fournier said there was "not a word of truth" in this evidence before the public accounts committee by Maj.-Gen. H. A. Young, the deputy.

"GREAT PRESSURE"

Gen. Young promptly retorted here that he was under "tremendous pressure" from the senator-mayor to award the 1956 contract to the Montreal firm whose bid on a moving job was almost twice that of the lowest and successful tenderer.

David Walker (PC, Toronto Rosedale) also advanced the charge that Senator Fournier threatened the deputy with being fired unless he helped the Montreal firm to get the contract.

The long distance "you're another" proceedings developed within and outside the Commons public accounts committee investigation of the way $16,000,000 was spent to build the government printing office at Hull, Que.

In the committee Friday Gen. Young said that in 1956 Senator Fournier put pressure on him to favor the Montreal firm of J. B. Baillargeon Limited to move equipment from the former printing bureau site in Ottawa to Hull.

The Montreal firm had bid $285,000 against $144,553 by the Ottawa concern of Hurdman Bros.

Gen. Young did not answer a question as to whether Senator Fournier had threatened to have him fired from his $15,000-a-year job, but he did answer yes to these questions by Mr. Walker:

1. "Were you subjected to pressure?"

2. "By Senator Fournier?"

HUBBUB ARISES

Before Gen. Young could reply to a question as to whether he had been threatened with being fired, a general hubbub arose. ex-transport minister Lionel Chevrier and former citizenship minister J. W. Pickersgill leaped into the debate. The Liberal objections drowned out any answer the deputy may have given.

Later, Gen. Young told a reporter he did not answer "yes" to any of the questions on whether he had been threatened with firing by the senator.

Later too, Mr. Walker said he thought he had heard Gen. Young say yes.

He said he plans to clarify testimony on this point by further questioning of the deputy Monday.

Victim Sorry For Thief

A Victoria woman who lost a wallet containing $112 last night commented "There are a lot of people out of work and you can't blame them."

Mrs. R. Watson lost the wallet, containing the money and private papers, downtown Wednesday. Yesterday the wallet, minus the money, was returned by Victoria Post Office. It had been dropped into a mail box.

"I hope whoever got the money needed it as much as I did," she commented. The money represented her monthly payment on a car and an installment on her house at 2835 Dysart Road, which she is buying.

But her employer, Jack Williams, of the Alberta Meat Market, loaned her the money so she could meet the payments.

"He's a pretty good boss," Mrs. Watson said.

Only Fraction Affected, Commons Told

Unionists Gagged, CCFer Says

OTTAWA (CP) — A small number of Canadian unions do not tolerate free speech within their ranks, Frank Howard, CCF member for Skeena, B.C., said Friday in the Commons.

unions he had in mind, but said only a small fraction of the 1,250,000 unionized workers in Canada were involved.

Mr. Howard, speaking during study of labor department estimates, said that in a small number of unions members were afraid to express their views at meetings "because they are afraid to lose their jobs."

SAD STATE OF AFFAIRS

It was a "sad state of affairs" that such a situation should exist in a democracy, said Mr. Howard, former official of the International Woodworkers of America.

His views were supported by Ernest Broome (PC—Vancouver South) who cited seafarers International Union (CLC), whose leader, Hal C. Banks, he described as an appointed "dictator."

Mr. Broome quoted from a letter he said he received from a seaman who complained about extortion, beatings and threats of loss of employment by the SIU.

DEPORT LEADER

The letter he read asked why the government did not deport its leader who, Mr. Broome said, was brought into Canada by the steamship companies to clean out Communist influences in Great Lakes seamen's ranks.

"In this case, it seemed to me the cure was worse than the disease," Mr. Broome said.

Mr. Broome urged the Canadian Labor Congress to take action against the SIU leadership.

"I suggest that the labor movement in Canada, which is 99 per cent pure, should take best interests of the workers." action against unions such as this one which negate the very principle of unionism, which is the order paper of its intention that of operating a union in the best interests of the workers."

In other Commons business the government gave notice on Friday of its intention to establish a board of broadcast governors independent of the CBC to regulate broadcasting in Canada. The matter will not likely be debated by the Commons until next week.

This Is a Firm Offer

DISSIDENT elements of the Doukhobors in British Columbia, whether calling themselves Sons of Freedom or not, now have an unequivocal offer from the Dominion and British Columbia. In response to the much-tooted visit of a Sons of Freedom delegation to Soviet Russia and its assertion upon return that arrangement could be made to take up land there, federal and provincial governments jointly are now laying a self-determinate choice before the dissatisfied members of the sect. They can stay in Canada and obey all of our laws, including school regulations; or they can leave by September 30 in an assisted transfer after full surrender of their Canadian citizenship.

It is squarely up to the complaining settlers to make up their minds now, one way or the other. This is a firm offer from the responsible governments concerned, and September 30 is the deadline. If the Sons of Freedom were in earnest when the Soviet inquiry and visit were conducted, and when their leaders announced that some 3,000 of the Sons had voted to migrate to Russia, here is the green light. They can de-Canadianize themselves and return to the land of their forefathers; or they can stay in Canada and subscribe to the normal, ordinary and entirely necessary laws of this nation. They cannot have it both ways, and the governmental offer is both a pledge of assisted migration and a straight, direct warning that Canadian laws must be obeyed.

The offer made to the dissidents is that the two governments will share the cost of a joint contribution to the migration; that settlers leaving will be assisted in the sale of their assets; and helped with passage and relocation costs on a broad and generous basis. The choice of whether they stay or go is in their own hands. If the Sons of Freedom have in fact the invitation they have professed to have from Soviet circles, now clearly the time has come for them to take it up. Canada and British Columbia have said their last word in a manner which is level-headed, sympathetic and real.

An Intolerable Affront

CANADIANS all across the land will be as "ashamed" as Northern Affairs Minister Hamilton declares himself to be that federal officials, including cabinet ministers, have to go practically cap in hand for U.S. permission to visit Arctic areas in their own country. It is a humiliating position that makes Canada akin to a satellite of Washington. It is also a bitter price to pay for so-called joint defensive measures with a "friendly" neighbor.

This disclosure, made officially by Mr. Hamilton to the House of Commons this week although the fact has long been suspected, indicates how America treats its closest ally. Because the U.S. built and controls the DEW radar line in the Canadian Arctic — supposedly a dual arrangement—it has dispossessed Canada of sovereignty over this part of her own territory and takes upon itself the right to permit or deny access to highly-placed Canadian officials with national duties to perform. Anything more arrogant can scarcely be imagined.

In the Commons debate the opposition leader, Mr. Lester Pearson, said Canada should aim to take over the DEW line as soon as is practicable. What a belated remark! He was a member of the Liberal government which agreed to supine acceptance of American dominance in these Canadian Arctic areas and which repeatedly denied the very situation now made only too clear by the present Northern Affairs Minister.

It is only too apparent that the U.S. has no scruples about riding rough-shod over Canadian interests and that if Canada does not look out the Stars and Stripes will be flying over numerous areas of her sovereign Arctic territory. One recalls the "American Army of Occupation" reply given by U.S. military telephone operators at Edmonton during the war. Sometimes it looks in fact as though Canada, like smaller nations elsewhere, has ample cause to appeal to the UN 'o be protected against her "friends."

Mr. Hamilton implied there was little that could be done to correct the situation, but Canadians will expect prompt and sturdy action to remove such an affront to Canadian jurisdiction. Mr. Diefenbaker will be as guilty as Mr. St. Laurent if he allows it to continue. It is appropriate enough that as operators of the DEW line the U.S. should be notified when Canadian officials are travelling in its area, but this should be a matter of information and not a request for permission. Most certainly Canadian cabinet ministers should brook no outside interference in territorial matters and should have full authority in their own land. Canada is compelled by geography to align herself with the U.S. in what on both sides should be regarded as a willing and friendly partnership, but no government should acquiesce in the reduction of Canadians to the status of puppets. And in several respects in relation to the U.S. that is all they appear to be in some minds at Washington.

Jail for Disqualified Drivers

DISQUALIFIED drivers in this region who may feel tempted—as so many apparently do—to disobey licence suspension orders should take note for their own good of the stern attitude lately adopted by the magistrates. In several recent cases motorists who carried on driving after their licences had been temporarily revoked have wound up in jail, usually for seven days. Fair warning has been given also that unless these salutary sentences promote greater respect for court orders the term of imprisonment will be increased.

The magistrates are to be commended for taking this view of one of the most serious offences in the calendar. While suspension of licence is in itself a form of punishment, the primary purpose is the protection of the public. Motorists have the privilege of driving withdrawn for varying periods because it is unsafe for others for them to be permitted to drive. Many of those disqualified have displayed a contemptuous disregard of the court orders, and some of the magistrates have been far too lenient with them. There are cases on record of offenders being convicted as many as five times of driving while under suspension and still being let off with relatively inconsequential fines.

That sort of treatment fails to satisfy the requirements of public safety or to encourage respect for authority. Drivers with no sense of responsibility when they read press reports of such cases being disposed of by means of small fines are apt to conclude that it is worth taking a chance. A jail sentence is a different story; and the punishment is not unduly harsh. Driving while disqualified is a wilful, premeditated act of defiance for which there can be no excuse.

Interpreting the News

U.S. Proposals Examined

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CANADIAN officialdom studied the reports of President Eisenhower and Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko's speeches in the UN General Assembly and found some encouragement.

There was no immediate formal comment but it is known one reaction was that there was little to criticize in the Eisenhower outline.

Comments by the Russian delegate indicated the Soviet might now approve the creation of some sort of a UN peace-keeping force. But there was no other apparent reason to believe the president would be any more successful with the proposition now than at any time in the past 13 years.

The president's plan for a Middle East economic aid program is in line with Canadian government proposals which have emphasized in recent days the necessity for a stepped-up program of aid for the Middle East states.

Canada would no doubt be wholeheartedly in favor of any UN action to suppress inflammatory propaganda broadcasts, and to control the shipments of arms to Middle East countries—or any of the UN actions proposed by the president.

It is quite possible, however, there would be some question by Canadian authorities on President Eisenhower's sixth point in which he proposes a UN declaration of determination that Jordan's survival as a nation will be preserved presumably by replacing the U.K. forces now there by UN personnel.

There is no assurance, and perhaps a lot of doubt, that the high hopes outlined by the president in his program can be achieved.

But there are those in Canadian positions of responsibility who are not sure that Jordan can or should be sustained as a nation by pumping money into its treasury and supplying forces for its protection.

There was no surprise here that Mr. Gromyko lashed out at the U.S. and U.K. as dangerous threats to world peace because of their intervention in Lebanon and Jordan. That was expected, as was his demand that the Americans get out of Lebanon and the British get out of Jordan before the drive for UN economic and other assistance gets under way.

If there was any surprise over the Russian attitude it was that it permitted the dark-visaged, unsmiling Gromyko to be as mild and co-operative as he was.

Since 1945 the UN Assembly and its other bodies have listened to the most bitter denunciations by Soviet spokesmen—mainly denunciations of the U.S. as a warmonger.

United States spokesmen in the UN have been fairly outspoken in their denunciations of Russia.

President Eisenhower did not hesitate to indicate he realized what Russia had been attempting to do with the present Middle East crisis.

"How's that for bold, imaginative thinking?"

Rapier Thrust

M. deGaulle And Mr. K

(From the Christian Science Monitor)

IT must be quite some time since Premier Khrushchev has received such a rapierlike flick from any diplomatic adversary as that administered by Premier de Gaulle in his reply to a letter proposing a summit conference:

"As you know, the French Government has always considered it desirable that a serious discussion might be started between the powers on the problems that separate them and that might endanger the peace. That is why it favors the principle of a conference relative to the Middle East."

Premier de Gaulle is in the strong position of being able not only to declare this but to point to the record of his own past efforts to bring about better East-West relations.

They now add power to his thrust:

"I must nevertheless, Mr. Premier, tell you frankly that certain of the reasons you invoke and certain of the expressions you employ do not seem to be the most appropriate for ensuring the success of your proposal. Indeed, I feel that a 'summit' conference, called in the face of a world plunged in worries and anxieties, would be likely to succeed only in an atmosphere of objectivity and serenity. Now, I must point out to you that many passages in your letter could hardly make easy the necessary relaxation of tension and understanding between the eventual participants."

Mr. Khrushchev does not need to be told this, but many cold-war neutrals do, because they often hear that Moscow is calling on the West to help make peace, but they rarely hear the belligerent tone in which the demand is made:

"Why, for example, compare the presence of American forces in Lebanon and British forces in Jordan, called on by the governments of these states following the events in Iraq, with Hitler's former aggression in Poland? (Unfortunately, Hitler was not alone.) Really, does such a comparison correspond with reality?"

We hope Khrushchev can retain his most affable party manners when reading that. For de Gaulle is not only reminding him that the Hitler aggression in Poland was unleashed by a Soviet-Nazi treaty; he is not only recalling that while Hitler forces moved in from one side, Soviet troops moved in from the other; de Gaulle is also asking in amused surprise, "How could you, 'Monsieur K.,' leave yourself so wide open on that one?"

Or, "Monsieur K.," on this one?:

"Why maintain that the 'sad and difficult experience acquired by France in Algeria and at the time of the unprovoked aggression of British-French-Israeli forces against Egypt has left a deep mark in the heart of each Frenchman'? . . . As for me, I shall refrain from reciprocating and dwelling on the marks that certain ventures have left in the minds of the Russian people."

It was not necessary for de Gaulle to supply the list of ventures for Mr. Khrushchev; he has it already. Lithuania, Czechoslovakia, and others among the "successes." Poland, East Germany, and Hungary among the items of "unfinished business."

"Having said this, Mr. Premier, I confirm to you my intention of taking part in the direct contact you would like between the heads of government of the major powers relative to the Middle East as soon as this contact could be organized 'in reason and in calm,' as you yourself write."

Western leaders can surely welcome such a voice as this to the conference table. Mr. Khrushchev can better afford to receive the most righteously inspired "No" to his proposals for peace-making a la Russe than to invite many repetitions of the precisely polite "Yes" that he has now received from Paris.

Reports from Ottawa

THE death by starvation of 14 Eskimos at Garry Lake last winter could be written off as a tragic but perhaps fated end of a group of aborigines living so far from help that any failure of the caribou supply would inevitably produce this result.

Mervyn Hardie is not willing to let it go at that.

Hardie is the Liberal MP for Mackenzie River, which is roughly the western half of the Northwest Territories. And he is not satisfied that the Department of Northern Affairs did all that it could have done to prevent the tragedy.

When Hardie raised the matter in an intensely moving speech in the Commons, the minister of northern affairs, Alvin Hamilton, replied by recounting what his department is doing to help the Eskimo people generally. He needed more officials in the north. They needed airplanes to cover the area. It was hard to keep track of roving Eskimo bands. In the middle of this, Hamilton said, "I will come back to the actual details of Garry Lake in a moment"—but he never did.

According to Hardie, last August Father Trinel, an Oblate missionary, reported to the authorities at Baker Lake, centre of administration for the area, that food prospects at Garry Lake were bleak. The caribou had failed to put in an appearance on their age-old migratory route, and the natives had no food to do them through the winter. On Aug. 16 a plane load of food was despatched to the area from Baker Lake.

On Dec. 10 the authorities at Baker Lake received a further urgent warning from Father Trinel. On Dec. 15 they sent a plane, which landed and cached food on the trail between Garry and Pelly lakes, but did not contact the Eskimos.

What Hardie wants to know: What was done in the four months between Aug. 16 and Dec. 15? What was done to ensure the natives got the cached food? What was done between Dec. 15 and March 22, the next time a plane landed at Garry Lake? The answer he suspects: Nothing.

On March 22 the RCMP took in more food by air and cached it without seeing any Eskimos. But by that time the Eskimos had died of starvation after having eaten everything edible—including, it is believed, their caribou skin clothing. It was not until April 24, when Doug Wilkinson, northern service officer, flew from Baker to Garry, that the tragedy was discovered.

Last month Wilkinson conducted an inquest at Baker Lake. Hardie bluntly describes it as "a complete whitewash." It established that the natives presumably died of starvation. It did not establish, or at least not to Hardie's satisfaction, that everything possible had been done.

In the Commons Hardie quoted from the autopsy report which formed part of the inquest evidence. It makes grim reading, this cold account in medical terms of how 14 men, women and children died one by one, huddled under mattresses in sub-zero temperatures, waiting for help that never came.

The shocking facts held the House to pindrop attention. And I am sure that through the minds of many members ran a discomforting thought—that perhaps the officials who bear our white man's burden towards these Eskimos whose native life and livelihood we have disrupted did not, at Garry Lake last winter, bear that burden well.

Guide to Government

(From The Montreal Gazette)

"THE Queen, as represented in Canada by the Governor-General, and the Senate and the House of Commons constitute the Parliament of Canada." Thus begins the chapter, "The Parliament of Canada," of the new government publication, "Organization of the Government of Canada."

The bilingual book, from the Queen's Printer, has ready uses. It not only explains Canada's governmental structure, it provides ready reference for the householder or average citizen in trouble.

It tells Canadians whom they should write to about their old age allowance, or about a passport, or when the mail delivery is late, or about economic research. It explains the structure; it also gives the kind of details that the average citizen requires.

With chapter and chart, excellently printed in both languages, "Organization of the Government of Canada" fills a need, not just for libraries and reference studies, but for the average Canadian, who is likely to have business to do with government departments or agencies sooner or later.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

THE tent business must be flourishing. All the provinces of Canada have awakened to the fact that the highways are like rivers, and that campers can travel in something other than canoes. Thus, wherever highways pass through wilderness country, the governments are establishing camp sites. And on a recent far-ranging trip, I was greatly impressed with the revival of the tent as a popular human habitation.

New imagination has entered the tent industry. In my camping days nine out of ten tents were the familiar wall tent. Only occasionally, and in the hands of rather fancy campers, did you see umbrella tents, shed-shaped "campfire" or Baker tents, small canoe tents and pups.

Today, especially at these wayside camp sites, you will see very efficient tents made specially to be erected beside a motor car, indeed, integral with the motor car, like an extension of it. Others look like miniature bungalows, with screen fronts, windows, louvres. They are made of the new fabrics, light and tough. The campers appear to be highly comfortable, as they sit at their ease in camp chairs, surrounded by all kinds of miniature appliances, including ice boxes, gas stoves and even TV sets.

Old Nesamuk, the father of American camping, would have a fit if he could see them.

On the Record

Towards a Showdown

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

THE headlines in recent days indicate the intensity of the crisis into which the game of power politics has led us, the United States—a game, whether under Mr. Truman or under President Eisenhower, ineptly played.

The contents of the reports under the captions suggest preparations on both sides for a showdown.

Washington "spokesmen" assure correspondents of the certainty there will be no war. And war under the present conditions of weapons presents a catastrophe of literally unimaginable proportions.

But I remember the same "calm assurances" in the spring and summer of 1939.

It has been a long accepted doctrine to assess the cause of that war to the appeasement that culminated in Munich. But it was rather a combination of appeasement and provocation, of "cold war," that culminated in holocaust — a situation only too similar today.

What do we read under the alarming captions?

James Reston, of the New York Times, reports, "it can be stated on the highest authority that President Eisenhower will try to persuade Nikita S. Khrushchev at the proposed . . . summit meeting . . . that the Communist campaign of indirect aggression in the Middle East . . . must be stopped if a major war is to be avoided."

Such "persuasion" amounts to an ultimatum, and on a most dubious issue. No one can define "indirect aggression" in terms acceptable to any mind unmoved by slogans. And there is no evidence for, and overwhelming evidence against, the proposition that the rebellions that are overthrowing governments in the Arab world are Communist-directed or inspired.

The account of the Peiping meeting reveals that the "Communist camp" from Warsaw to China is consolidating in anticipation of war. Apart from the principals—U.S.S.R. and Chinese premiers, foreign ministers and party heads—only the ministers of defence attended. From the text of the statement issued after the four-day conference there is no indication that anything was discussed except the international lineup, from a political and military standpoint.

We also see a repetition of the avowed determination to suppress "Communist revisionism" that occurred when the Hungarian rebellion was suppressed during the Suez crisis, undoubtedly in anticipation of a possible major war.

Jehovah's Witnesses, basing their prophesies on the Old Testament, foresee the "end of the world" in the final great battle of Armageddon located on the mountains of Palestine, in which the forces of Jehovah will defeat those of Satan.

We are not sure whom Jehovah would save in the conflict envisaged. We believe, rather, in the prophesy of Jesus, in the sermon on the mount, that "the meek shall inherit the earth."

The meek are not the leaders of the great powers.

Russia has commanded Israel to refuse passage through her skies of planes carrying British troops and supplies to Jordan. Israel is complying, though she had already protested the flights. We record this without criticism. It does, however, support the statement made in this space a few days ago that the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. shared at least one common illusion — that Israel is "pro-Western."

In the present situation war could break out any moment, over an accident or a small misstep. But whether it does or not, the structure of American political and military policy in the Middle East is in full dissolution.

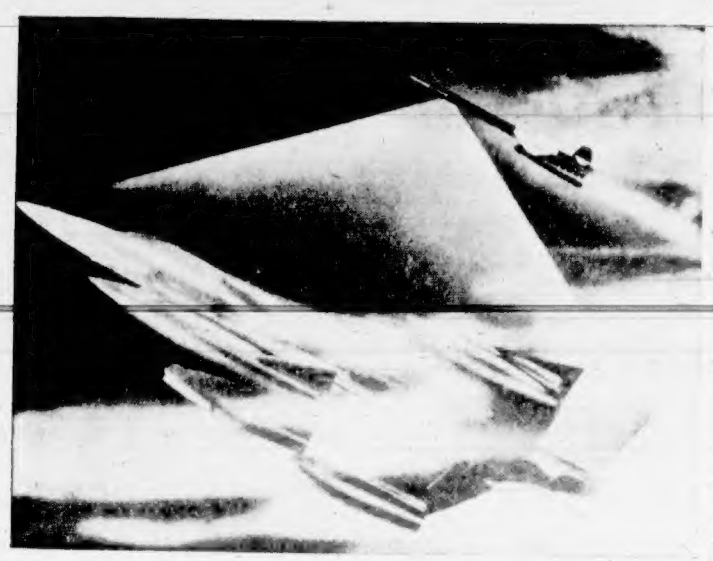
This is not because our policy-makers, political and military, have not been warned, over and over, by objective analysts within the government and outside it. It is because those who dictate policy have adhered to a hopeless line, partly because of stubbornly blinded eyes, partly under the influence of the least disinterested but politically powerful pressure groups, and because a systematic campaign of suppression and distortion has prevented the American people from getting any true picture of the Middle East.

But as the Czechoslovak national motto once was, "Truth prevails." Whether it prevails to make or save a nation, to shape or defeat a policy, whether it is discerned by reason and insight, or experienced by disastrous defeat, it does prevail.

With the Classics

Full soon thy Soul shall have her earthly freight,
And custom lie upon thee with a weight,
Heavy as frost, and deep almost as life!

—WORDSWORTH.



Missile Projects Sky Picture for Target

Kingfisher is the name of a new U.S. missile which can project an image of an enemy plane in the sky as a target for ground crews to aim their destructive missiles. During the firing, the Kingfisher is unharmed and can be used over and over again, after recording misses or hits.

'Frog' Forces Battle

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Chinese Nationalist and Communist frogmen battled with fists, knives and crowbars off Quemoy Island Monday in history's first "fishfight," it was reported yesterday.

There was no mention of casualties on either side.

CBS correspondent Peter Kalischer, the only newsman who has visited the outpost island recently, said the clash occurred when 10 Nationalist frogmen swimming toward Red coastal installations met 30 Communist underwater warriors headed the other way.

The swirling battle raged on and under the surface for about 15 minutes.

The only other report of new action in the "vestpocket war" came from the Communist radio, which said Red jets downed two and damaged a third of 26 Nationalist Sabrejets which "invaded" the air over Communist-held Fukien province Thursday.

Vice-Admiral Roland N. Smoot, the ranking U.S. officer on Formosa, said the Communists appear to be trying to find out just how much they can get away with.

Salmon Harvest

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — More salmon has already been canned in Alaska this season than was packed in all of 1957.

The 1958 pack this week pushed past last year's total by 73,938 cases and was more than 500,000 cases ahead of the same week a year ago.

47 Bananas Gorged By Priest at Border

COURMAYEUR, Italy (UPI)—A French priest ate 47 bananas at the Italian border because the law forbade fruit imports into Italy. It took him 90 minutes.

Sons of Freedom Leader:

'We'll Leave Anytime, Sooner the Better'

The provincial and federal governments moved to end half a century of terrorism in Canada yesterday, leaving the next move up to the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors.

The two governments agreed to share all costs of shipping the Doukhobors back to Russia and pay a fair share in relocating the sect in Siberia.

The next moves are for the Doukhobors to renounce their Canadian citizenship and for Russia to announce it will accept them.

A joint statement issued in both Ottawa and Victoria yesterday morning had two main points:

1. The federal government will pay the full cost of transportation back to Russia for and Sons of Freedom members who want to go.

2. The B.C. government will provide financial assistance not exceeding federal transportation costs for any Freedomites who relocate in Russia.

No estimate was given as to the possible cost.

"We believe they are sincere (in wanting to go to Russia) and we want to help them," said Premier Bennett.

He said it was not a question of dollars and cents but one of finding a solution to the problem.

"Say 'X' is the total cost," added the premier. "In the end Ottawa will pay half and B.C. will pay half."

The sect has until Sept. 30 to decide who wants to go and who wants to stay. Arrangements would be made to send to Russia all Freedomites who wanted to go as soon as possible after this date.

A leader of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors said yesterday in Hillers, his sect was ready to leave for Russia "anytime, and the sooner the better."

Joe Podovinikoff was commenting on yesterday's joint Ottawa-Victoria announcement that the federal and British Columbia governments would co-operate in aiding emigration of those Doukhobors who wished to return to Russia.

Podovinikoff was a member of a four-man Freedomite delegation that visited Russia in January to study possibility of a return.

He said more than 3,000 members of the sect were ready to make the move and would have no difficulty getting into Russia.

City Youth Jailed For Month

A 19-year-old Victoria youth appeared in two police courts on two separate charges yesterday, and received a 30-day jail term on one of the counts.

The jail sentence was given to Peter John Ullock, 3212 Frechette, in city court by Magistrate A. I. Thomas for driving while under suspension. In Saanich court, Ullock denied a charge of possessing a stolen lawn mower and was remanded by Magistrate Thomas to Thursday for trial.

Fine of $50 was levied by Magistrate Thomas in Colwood RCMP court yesterday against Millard Arthur Ash, 1749 Green Oaks, who pleaded guilty to a charge of being a minor in possession of beer. He had been arrested in a car on Millstream Road.

'Pool Taxes For Parks' —Mooney

Acting Mayor M. H. Mooney suggested yesterday that Greater Victoria municipalities should consider pooling revenue from uniform tax rates for park purposes, to be administered by a joint parks board.

The acting mayor, chairman of city council parks committee, said it seemed to him a uniform parks tax rate of perhaps four mills would be the fairest way of raising money for the parks of the whole area.

He said he didn't normally approve of separate boards in municipal affairs, but that a Greater Victoria parks board could be made up of elected council members. Term of members, he said, should be four or five years so that there would be continuity of policy.

The acting mayor said he had learned at a recent parks convention that Spokane had a separate board established to receive donations from people who wanted to contribute to parks and recreation. One individual had given $220,000.

A subcommittee of a joint parks board for Greater Victoria could have the same function, he suggested.

Two executive appointments were announced by Mr. J. J. Herb, Chairman of the Board, following a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of Westminster Paper Company Limited.

Arthur F. Armstrong was elected President and Managing Director of the Company. Mr. Armstrong was born in Nova Scotia, and graduated from the University of Toronto in 1936. From 1942 to 1946, he served as an officer in the R.C.N.V.R. In 1954 Mr. Armstrong was elected to the Board of Westminster Paper Company. He became a Vice-President and member of the Executive Committee in 1956. His most recent assignment has been that of Industrial Relations Director of Scott Paper Company, a post he now leaves to assume the Presidency of Westminster Paper Company Limited.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

Many people are emotionally starved. Man does live by bread, but he doesn't live by bread alone. Jesus Christ made that profoundly true statement. A man needs a cause to work for, companions to work with, and friends to talk to.

What is nature's first law? "Self-preservation," replies the atheist. "Thou shalt love the Lord they God . . . and thy neighbor as thyself," answers Jesus.

Admiral Beatty used to go to St. Giles in Edinburgh to hear the organist, John Hartley practicing. "I am no musician," he wrote him, "but one thing I love to listen to is the organ.

"I know yours at St. Giles' is magnificient, and the one thing that brings peace to my mind in these terrible days is to sit in a quiet corner when you practice when I can have oil poured on the troubled waters of my brain."

"If your nose is close to the grindstone rough,
And you hold it down there
long enough,
In time you'll say there's no such thing
As brooks that babble and birds that sing.
These three will all your world compose—
Just you, the stone, and your nasty nose."

Excitement Lost

Some folk have lost all ability to enjoy life. Nothing is exciting any more.

"Wonder is the feeling of a philosopher," said Socrates, "and philosophy begins in wonder."

Travelling with her little girl who saw a cow for the first time and got in a great state of excitement about it, a mother apologized to a passenger on an adjoining seat. "My little girl isn't used to the country and thinks everything is wonderful." O happy child! "Except ye become as little children . . ."

Some of us are emotionally starved because we are all outgo, no income. If one of the greatest laws of life is, "Give yourself away," another is, "Receive that you may have a self to give."

James Smetham, the artist, said, "I went to chapel, tonight, fretting with plenty of dark and vexing suggestions, all sore as to feeling, and I came away calm, sweet, fresh, all my cares gone, rejoicing in the God of my salvation."

Most of us are emotionally starved because we are selfish—"all wrapped up in ourselves," and making a very small parcel.

Full Fed but Hungry

Self-centredness is the chief reason for depression. Stanley Jones, a great missionary, says, "There is no emptiness in love." People who love have changed a hostility pattern of life to a hospitality pattern. They have ceased being protective. They take risks, but they live.

Alfred Noyes has a haunting line, "full-fed, and yet I hunger." So Jesus talked about "the hunger and thirst for righteousness."

Isaiah upbraided people who spent their money and effort getting bread that did not satisfy. Admiral Byrd set out once to discover, as he said, "a better bread that can be made from wheat." H. G. Wells, like Augustine, sought his "sufficient beauty." Tennyson's Ulysses in old age would "follow knowledge like a sinking star."

It is easy to become a materialist. The down-drift is simple. But the lot of the materialist is hell on earth. Life becomes a matter of dish-cans and oil-cans. Blessed is the man who can "wonder and stand rapt in awe."

Island Churches Plan Fund Drive

At least nine up-Island churches will co-operate in an interdenominational fund-raising campaign Sept. 14 to Nov. 16.

The campaign, known as a sector, will be held simultaneously with a similar drive in Victoria.

"Purpose of the sector," said Rev. Brian Page of St. John's Anglican Church, Duncan, local director of the up-Island program, "is to teach our people the meaning of Christian stewardship and understand more fully their commitment as members of the church."

"It isn't just a money-raising scheme at all."

Churches participating to date in the sector are St. John's in Duncan; Lake Cowichan Anglican mission; St. Peter's Anglican Church, Quamichan; St. John's Anglican Church, Ladysmith; St. Andrew's United Church, Nanaimo; All Saints' Anglican Church, Alberni; St. Alban's Anglican Church, Port Alberni; Courtenay United Church and the Anglican church at Courtenay.

Counsellors for the campaign will be Rev. Sterling Kitchen and Rev. Malcolm Blackburn, both of Toronto.

Vast Development

Huge Alberta Plans Will End Dividends

EDMONTON (CP)—Alberta's Social Credit government is shelving its citizens' dividend legislation at the end of this year as it launches a five-year development program including special capital projects that will absorb the dividend appropriations.

Expanded services from every major government department, increased education expenditures, reorganization of the civil service and establishment of a separate labor department are among other moves planned in the program.

Municipal Finance Corporation operations, suspended this year, will be resumed next year with a broader scope.

USE RESERVE FUNDS

The whole program is expected to lift government expenditure during the next five years to roughly $1,500,000,000, and the province estimates it will have to dip into its $330,000,000 reserve funds for between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000 to make up the difference between outlay and income.

Premier E. C. Manning announced the plan Thursday at a press conference, then went on the air in paid broadcasts over Alberta radio and television stations to outline its framework.

2,500 HOMES

The five special projects that will absorb the dividend finances are headed by a program to erect 50 modern homes for aged citizens in 50 different zones throughout the province.

They will provide accommodation for 4,100 persons.

In 1960, the government has earmarked $10,000,000 for local community improvements, including street paving and facilities such as swimming pools, picnic and camp sites and parks.

NEW MEDICAL CENTRE

Calgary is to get a provincial hospital, diagnostic and treatment centre with $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 and patterned after the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., with completion aimed at 1961.

The following year, an institution for the care of emotionally disturbed children and a school for physically handicapped children are to be constructed. The building of a provincial archives and museum in 1963, probably in Edmonton, will conclude the special projects.

NAPOLEONIC CODE

The laws of France, codified under Napoleon in the early 19th century, are with few amendments still in force.

U.K. Plans Action On Cyprus

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain Friday announced a decision to go ahead immediately with a seven-year "partnership" plan for Cyprus, but with minor modifications.

A statement from Prime Minister Macmillan's office said he had given "most careful consideration" to the Greek and Turkey criticisms of the plan during visits to Athens and Ankara last week.

The original plan of June 19 encountered sharp opposition from Greek and Turkish governments.

Chief changes in the British plan:

1. A provision for Cypriots to have dual nationality — either Greek or Turkish in addition to their own—is preferred pending consideration of the international legal aspects.

2. The possibility is held out for an elected legislature representing the entire island as well as the two communal assemblies.

3. Representatives of the Greek and Turkish governments will not sit on the Cyprus governor's council cabinet, as originally proposed, but will have "direct access to the governor and other facilities as they need to carry out their functions."

Ibbotson's Mile Gets Recognition As World Record

Derek Ibbotson's brilliant mile run of three minutes and 57.2 seconds has finally been recognized as a world record but it came a bit late for the long-striding English runner to enjoy the prestige he properly deserved.

Ibbotson's mile had been questioned on the grounds that the time was made in a paced race - and the International Amateur Athletic Federation had put off a decision until yesterday. Ibbotson's mile was finally recognized - less than two weeks after Herb Elliott of Australia ran the mile in 3.54.5 at Dublin.

Elliott's sensational mile also will have to wait for recognition, the IOOF postponing action yesterday. Also given recognition were the 3.38.1 time for 1,500 metres by Stanislaw Jungwirth of Czechoslovakia and the seven-foot, one-inch high jump by Yuri Stephanov of Russia.

Win Boxla Honors

Veteran Druce, Johnston Win Top Lacrosse Awards

By JIM TAYLOR

Tommy Druce, the rugged veteran who proved the backbone of the Victoria Shamrock defence during a disastrous season, was presented with two awards last night as the Rocks wound up their Inter-City Lacrosse League schedule by losing, 16-10, to Vancouver Pilseners.

Druce won the Laurie Dillabaugh Memorial Trophy as the Shamrock best combining sportsmanship with ability. He was also named the most-valuable player on the Shamrocks and won the George Blackstock Memorial Trophy.

Geordie Johnston, leading goalie in the ICLL this season, was named the most popular player on the club in a season-long fan poll.

Druce, who usually took on the difficult checking chores like stopping Jack Blond, scored 12 goals and assisted on six this year, and was penalized only 25 minutes.

One of those penalties came late in the first half last night, and when half-time ceremonies were completed, Druce had to step into the penalty box just after accepting the sportsmanship award.

Last night's game meant absolutely nothing to either club as far as standing went, but the 1,282 fans who turned out to Memorial Arena got their share of action.

EARLY LEAD

Pilseners, who open a best-of-five semi-final series against Nanaimo on Monday, got rolling early and never stopped pressing. The score was 6-4 at half time, and when Johnston was replaced in the nets by Don Hamilton, the Pils had a field day.

After Bert Bertoia opened the third quarter with a goal, Pils scored six unanswered goals on 10 shots at Hamilton. The Victoria junior star blocked a total of 16 shots and gave up 10 goals.

Pete Black, Vancouver's shoo-in candidate for rookie-of-the-year honors, set the scoring pace with four goals. Bill Barbour added three and had a pair of assists. Ed Gosse, a youngster making his first start for the Pils, looked impressive in getting three goals.

GOALIE SCORES

Even substitute goalie John Fergusson got into the act for the Pils, taking a turn at forward and scoring once.

Shamrocks, once again led by Bert Bertoia, turned in a hustling performance in their finale. Bertoia got three goals, bringing his total to 53 for the season. He had been close behind Druce in the MVP poll.

Jim McNulty scored twice and set up two more. Single goals went to Bob Bremner, Ed Kowalyk, Ron Jay, Pee Wee Bradshaw and Jackie Northup.

College Gridders In Upset

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Mitchell's running, Jim Ninowski's passing, and Bobby Conrad's kicking gave the college all-stars a 35-19 upset victory over the Detroit Lions Friday night in the United States season's opening major football game.

Mitchell of Illinois was on the receiving end of two sharp touchdown passes from Ninowski. He ran 84 yards down the sidelines after taking a flat toss in the second period for the most spectacular play of the night.

Conrad, of Texas A and M, scored four field goals for 44, 24, 24 and 19 yards.

Detroit marched 80 yards after taking the first kickoff with Tobin Rote passing to Jim Doran to score on a 24-yard play. This was followed by two Ninowski-Mitchell touchdowns and two Conrad field goals. Halftime score was 20-7.

In the third period, after Lou Michaels of Kentucky led a swarm of all-stars in tackling Rote behind his goal for a safety, Gene Gedman scored from the nine for the Lions after a long march.

Charles Howley, guard from West Virginia, intercepted one of Bobby Layne's passes and ran 39 yards for the final all-star touchdown.

Ralph Pfeifer of the Lions lunged over from the one in the closing 30 seconds of the game to make the score 35-19.

Turley Again Victim

Penticton Southpaw New Yankee Nemesis

. . . tough-luck loss

Ted Bowsfield, Boston's rookie southpaw from Penticton, turned back the pennant-bound New York Yankees and ace Bob Turley for the second time in less than a week Friday night, hurling a fine seven-hitter and driving in a run in a 6-2 decision.

Brought up from the Minneapolis farm club one month ago, Bowsfield appeared in a relief role before making his first major league start a winning one against the Yankees last Sunday. Bowsfield needed help in that game but he pitched himself out of trouble several times with the help of a blazing fast ball and went the distance last night.

The fidgety southpaw wound up with a flourish, needing just eight pitches to wipe out Hank Bauer, Andy Carey and Mickey Mantle in the ninth inning. Bob Turley again was foiled in his bid for his 18th victory and lost for the sixth time.

Chicago White Sox chalked up their 11th win in 14 games and cut New York's lead to 13½ games by edging Cleveland, 4-3; Roger Maris hit his 21st home run and a pair of singles as Kansas City stopped Detroit, 12-5, and pitcher Vito Valentinetti mowed down Baltimore in order for five of the nine innings while Washington Senators sprayed 11 hits off Jack Harshman for a 3-1 victory.

THIRD SHUTOUT

Milwaukee Braves got another brilliant performance from rookie Carl Willey last night, blanking Philadelphia and hard-luck Robin Roberts, 1-0. Willey gave up only six hits in scoring his eighth victory and third shutout of the season.

Roberts, seeking his 13th win, gave up the only run when he walked Eddie Mathews in the eighth. Mathews stole second, reached third on an infield out and scored on Wes Covington's single.

Bob Purkey pitched a five-hitter and triggered a five-run uprising that gave Cincinnati's halpless Redlegs a 6-1 victory over Pittsburgh. The Pirates fell seven games behind the Braves.

It was the first Cincinnati win under Jimmy Dykes, who took over when Birdie Tebbetts resigned as manager Thursday.

Cal Neeman's 10th-inning home run broke up a pitching duel and gave Chicago Cubs a 3-1, 10-inning win over San Francisco.

The Rainiers, in last place are four games behind the seventh-place Sacramento Solons and slipping fast.

San Diego chalked up its sixth straight victory, staying three games behind the Giants, by blanking Spokane on Gene Lary's steady nine-hit pitching. It was Lary's eighth win of the season.

Vancouver's hard-luck Mounties, who lost four of six games to the Giants, went down to an 8-2 defeat at Portland and dropped four games off the pace.

Babe Ruth, one of baseball's immortals, died in a New York cancer hospital 10 years ago tonight at age 53. In 22 years as a major leaguer, ending in the 1935 season, Ruth hit a total of 714 home runs and his season's mark of 60 homers in 1927 still stands.

Final Won By Duncan

Duncan broke loose for nine runs in a wild fourth inning to defeat North Kiwanis, 10-6, and win the Connie Mack League championship last night at Royal Athletic Park.

Bob Halady, although touched for 10 hits, went the distance to gain credit for the win.

Steve Lezetc, who was nursing a 4-1 lead going into the fourth inning, was the losing pitcher. He was relieved by Steve Duncan in the disastrous fourth.

Ray Latta struck the big blow for the winners in the big nine-run uprising, driving in three runs with a bases-loaded double.

Duncan will now meet the mainland champions for the provincial crown.

Hogan to Pass Up B.C. Golf But Big U.S. Field Assured

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ben Hogan, the grand old man of professional golf, has passed up an invitation to compete in British Columbia's $47,800 centennial golf tournament here Aug. 27 to Sept. 1.

Hogan's main reason is that his golf club factory is swamped with orders. But it's not the only reason.

"It's no use coming anyhow," he told a tournament official by telephone this week. "I don't figure I'd have much chance. Nobody's going to beat Leonard in his home town."

Stan Leonard, who cracked the big money on the gold trail for the first time this year with a win in the Las Vegas Tournament of Champions, certainly has a good chance of picking up some more at the Point Grey Golf and Country Club, venue of the Centennial tourney.

He used to be pro at Marine Drive, a similar course a few hundred yards further up the Fraser River, and knows the Point Grey course just as well.

SHATTERS PAR

Leonard has been shattering par figures regularly in practice rounds at Point Grey during the last three weeks. He hasn't been above 68 once in that period on the par-72 course.

But with a slate of 57 pros—including the best the gold trail has to offer—already lined up for the tournament, Leonard's chances can't be reckoned at much better than even.

Ken Venturi, third biggest money-winner on the circuit this year, Dick Mayer, 1957 U.S. Open champion, Lionel Hebert, 1957 PGA champion and Bob Rosburg, who equalled a course record of 63 in the 1954 Canadian Open at Point Grey, are some of the top players recently added to the list of those committed for the Centennial.

Lined up earlier were Doug Ford, Dow Finsterwald, Arnold Palmer, Mike Souchak, Billy Casper, Frank Stranahan, Japanese stars Kochi Ono and Takao Nakamaru, and a host of other greats who will make things difficult for Leonard.

Acceptances for the tourney don't close until Aug. 24 and tournament officials think that by then they'll have Sam Snead, Jimmy Demaret and Dr. Cary Middlecoff.

The 72-hole Centennial tournament will begin Aug. 28 following a one-day "circus" pro-amateur event in which professionals will team up with local amateurs and such celebrites as Dizzy Dean, Mickey Rooney, Johnny (Tarzan) Weissmuller, Gordon McRae and probably Bing Crosby and Phil Harris.

Scots to Practice

Canadian Scottish of the Victoria and District Football League will hold a workout Sunday morning at Windsor Park at 10.30 for all last year's players and others interested.

Draper Takes Lead In Feature Match

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ont. — A tall, good-looking mines supervisor from South Porcupine, Ont., was in the lead with only 20 rounds to go in the feature Governor-General's match here.

Jack A. Draper, 49, veteran of three Canadian Bisley teams, shot 148 of a possible 150 Friday in the match's first two phases at the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association annual matches.

Competitors fire 20 rounds each today at 900 yards in the final phase. A total of 300 shot Friday, survivors of a preliminary match in which some 650 took part.

Draper, a militia sergeant in the Algonquin Regiment, made his score in a tough, gusty crosswind.

Later, the United Kingdom out-shot Canada 1,130 to 1,117 of a possible 1,200 in the Canada match for eight-member teams, fired at 300, 500 and 600 yards.

Three service riflemen in the Governor-General's had 147 scores, only one point behind Draper. They were L.-Cpl. Jack Cramer of North Vancouver, B.C., a lance-corporal in the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada; Flt. Sgt. K. M. Livingstone of RCAF air station, Rockcliffe, and Christopher T. S. Belk of Limpfield, Surrey, 20-year-old member of the British team.

W. E. (Ed) George, a popular longtime competitor here, added two more prizes to his take at the week-long matches.

He was named top scorer in the Thursday aggregate with 248 points of a possible 250. The aggregate is based on total points in Governor-General's qualifying stage and City of Ottawa matches.

He was also named winner of the Gzowski Challenge Cup for highest aggregate scorer on 900-yard ranges in Alexander of Tunis matches Wednesday and City of Ottawa Thursday. He had 96 of a 100 possible.

High man for B.C. in the Grand Aggregate is Sgt. Ralph Chandler of Vancouver with 630, 15 points behind the leading score.

Victoria scores:

Grand Aggregate: 2nd, Peter Roche 608, 30th; Smokey Green 605, 54th; Major Jack Roberts 584, 61st; Frank Morse 584, 61st; Frank Drysdale 581, 67th; Ron Meceredy 576, 120th; Bob McCallum 574, 159th; Eileen Learoyd 572. Eisenhower Beats Golf Jinx; Wins from Clubmate on 18th

Edgar Eisenhower finally made the grade in the Northwest Seniors' Golf Association tournament yesterday, but for a few agonizing seconds on the 18th green he appeared to be adding another chapter to his famous tournament jinx.

Eisenhower, 69, defeated clubmate Roger Peck of Tacoma on the 18th to win the Barnard Cup. It was the first victory in the seniors' event for Eisenhower, who had reached the final on seven previous occasions.

Peck, who took the title from Eisenhower in a marathon 22-hole struggle in 1952, finished strongly at Victoria Golf Club yesterday and came within a fraction of an inch of squaring the match.

STAYS OUT

Three down at one point in the match, the 62-year-old veteran won the 13th and 17th holes. Faced with an 18-foot putt to square the match on the 18th, Peck stroked the ball smoothly and watched it reach the lip of the cup, curl lazily around it, and stop.

It was the last of five heartbreaking putts for Peck, who hit the rim and bounced out on several occasions in an off-color round.

While Eisenhower played steadily except for a brief lapse in the late stages, Peck flubbed his drive three times, and twice had to take his tee shot again for a two-stroke penalty.

Eisenhower also had his share of putting trouble, but came up with several fine recovery shots to get himself out of the rough or sand traps when Peck was pressing.

Eisenhower went one up on the second hole when Peck's drive landed in the trees, but Peck squared the match with a par on the fourth hole. Peck missed a short putt and Eisenhower sank his to take the lead again on the fifth.

Then Peck ran into his driving trouble. His tee shot on the sixth was less than 100 yards and he lost the hole to fall two behind. His first shot on the 218-yard seventh hole was unplayable, but he dropped his second shot within a foot of the pin to get an amazing half on the hole as Eisenhower two-putted.

Peck conceded the ninth when his two drives were unplayable, leaving Eisenhower three up at the turn. He cut the margin with a par on the 10th, but lost when he three-putted the 11th.

The 12th hole was halved. Peck won the 13th as Eisenhower missed a short putt, and the 14th, 15th and 16th holes were halved although Eisenhower had good chances to pad his lead. Peck hit the cup with his first putt on the 16th but had to settle for the half.

Peck sank an eight-foot putt after Eisenhower missed his on the 17th green to set the stage for the 18th-hole duel.

Lions Tackle Roughies In First Test Tonight

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions go against Saskatchewan Rough Riders tonight in their first Western Conference league game of the season, and for Canadian rookie backfielder Lawrence (Sonny) Homer it will be his big chance.

Coach Clem Crowe named the North Vancouver rookie to start at left half, flanking American import right-half Paul Cameron, a 26-year-old, 200-pounder from UCLA playing his third year with Lions.

The coach's announcement was a bit of a surprise but a delight to the scribes. They all agreed young Homer looked pretty good on Lions exhibition road trip, especially on the sensational touchdown he scored on an 85-yard pass-and-run play in Lions' victory over the Alouettes in Montreal.

Coach Crowe obviously thought the North Vancouver lad okay too. But he said the main reason for putting him in and benching import halfbacks Pete Neft and Primo Villaneuva, was so he could play eight import linemen.

"We feel an extra import in the line will help us more," the coach said.

ENOS TO DRESS

The extra import lineman who will dress is Ed Enos, the Boston strongboy who played terrific tackle for Lions last year and now goes in at defensive end.

Some 25,000 are expected at Empire Stadium tonight for the second game of the new Western Interprovincial Football Union schedule. Winnipeg Bombers took Edmonton Eskimos 29-21 in the season-opener at Winnipeg Thursday night.

B.C. and Saskatchewan both leave after tonight's contest, Lions to meet the Stampeders at Calgary and Saskatchewan to take on the Eskimos at Edmonton in Monday games.

Crowe's decision on Homer is seen by Lions' followers as a reflection of the coach's confidence in his Canadian crop of players who showed up particularly well in pre-season exhibitions.

SIX NEWCOMERS

Homer will be one of six new faces in the starting offensive lineup. The entire left side of the line will be new.

Howie Schnellenberger, one of two prize catches sent to Lions from Fort Knox army camp by Ed Vereb, will hold down left end. The other is quarterback George Herring, former Mississippi Southern star. Vereb himself is getting out of the army shortly and is slated to take over the left half spot Aug. 22.

Urban Henry, known as "the ramblin' wreck from Georgia Tech," takes his 235 pounds into the line at tackle and Tommy Hinton, the speedy six-footer from Louisiana Tech, will be next to him.

Centre for the opener will be Ed Sharkey, a hard knocker who got professional experience with four national league teams before coming to Lions last year as a guard.

Right guard will be held down by six foot, one-inch Chuck Frank, a 235-pounder at Michigan State last season. At right tackle will be Curtis Plehu Iaukea III, 245 pounds of football player from Honolulu via the University of California. He's the second Hawaiian in Canadian football, Montreal's all-star centre Tom Hugo being the first.

Rick Kaser, rangy holdover from Toledo will patrol right end.

Senior Oils Lead Decline At Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials and western oils led the stock market lower in moderate trading. Western oils started their drop to four sessions with a point loss.

Refining oils and steels were the hardest hit sections among industrials. Imperial Oil lost 1¼ at 44¼ and BA Oil was off ½ at 41¾.

Hudson Bay lost ¾ at 49½ and Steep Rock, ½ at 11½ to lead base metals off.

In western oils it was a continuation of the gradual decline that started Tuesday. Again there were no big drops, rather a general softening among seniors.

Setback at New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks suffered a sharp sinking spell that brought individual losses running to more than 3 points in Kennecott.

The decline was attributed to a tightening of the money market. The market ignored some favorable economic developments, such as the third straight monthly rise in industrial production in July.

Some of the oils turned weak near the close after the government filed suit against 400 oil producers in California, blaming them for the fact a naval shipyard sunk into the sea. Richfield, one of those named, was off more than 2.

Chemicals, metals, aircrafts and railroads also were weak with losses in these groups running to 1 and 2 points. International Salt was the upside feature, rising 4 points around its high. U.S. Gypsum lost 3 at its worst.

The decline, which halted a two-day advance in stock prices, was accompanied by a contraction in volume. This was a good sign because it indicated a lack of selling pressure.

Bralorne Boosted

VANCOUVER — In a fairly active session, prices were mixed.

Among industrials Crown Zellerbach rose to $21½ and Canadian Collieries to $6¼. Okanagan Helicopters declined to 3.95. MacMillan to $34 and Western Plywood to $15¾.

Bralorne was a strong mining feature at $6¼ while Pioneer went ahead to 1.47. Premier Border was again active closing at 15½ cents after rising to 16 cents. Granduc was the strong spot among coppers at 1.75.

Peace River Petroleums bucked the trend in oils with a 15 cents advance to 50 cents.

London Stock Prices

LONDON (Reuters) — The London stock market was quieter after Thursday's cheerful response to the cut in the bank rate. The upward movement in United States money rates was a restraining influence.

Dollar stocks were dull in anticipation of a lower Wall Street opening following the rise in the San Francisco federal's re-discount rate.

South African gold shares were prominent and showed widespread gains. Coppers were dull and there was very little movement in other base metal shares. Interest in oil shares was very limited and prices mainly lower.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP) — Trading was quiet with prices moving narrowly.

Prices showed a firm trend as there was some improvement in export demand. Small quantities of flax were sold to the United Kingdom and Japan. The United Kingdom also was credited with taking modest quantities of barley.

Oats and barley trade disclosed some shipping interest including exporting buying of barley.

There were light flax offerings with evidence of overseas demand.

Rye prices were fairly steady in quiet and local trade.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included: United Kingdom 600,000 bushels. The Netherlands 440,000, Belgium 90,000.

Madman Flushed By Armoured Car

MIDDLETON (Idaho) (UPI) — A former mental patient went berserk yesterday and a posse armed with armoured cars and tear gas finally forced him out of his home.

Officers said the man, identified as Milton Sharp, 36, left a state mental hospital where he was a patient after escaping from a locked ward.

After shooting at several passers-by, Sharp barricaded himself in the house and exchanged shots with a posse armed with rifles and shotguns.

Officers said the man was finally flushed from the house when the armoured car moved up and fired tear gas shells into the house.

As the armored car drew close toward the house, Sharp came out for open ground. He was chased around the house several times before he retreated to the house and was finally forced out for freedom.

Warrior Off To Boneyard

A tug that was a common sight here, on the west coast of Vancouver Island and the Queen Charlotte Islands since the late 40s, has gone to the boneyard.

The Island Warrior was sold by Island Tug and Barge Ltd. recently to a local scrapping firm which the tugs sold it to a shipper from in Seattle to be scrapped.

Her sale was "in keeping with our modernization program . . . we are getting rid of all our steam tugs and converting to diesel," an Island Tug official said.

Five 'Sons' Committed To Trial

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Five young Sons of Freedom Doukhobors were committed Friday to stand trial on charges of conspiring to cause explosions.

They are Sam Konkin, 27; Alex Konkin, his brother, 26; John Antifeaff, 24; George Woykin, 22, and John Nazaroff, 21. All were working in the Kelowna area at the time of their arrest.

Laying of charges followed lengthy RCMP investigation of terrorist explosions that have occurred in various parts of the Okanagan Valley in recent months.

A new application for bail was understood to be pending. In the meantime it was expected the five would be held in Kamloops provincial jail.

In handing down his decision Friday, Magistrate White told the court: "From the large number of exhibits (44) produced in this case, one is immediately aware that not only one but several acts were committed."

It was learned that Alex Konkin was married before a United Church minister in Kelowna Thursday.

German Official Brushes Off Callers by Machine

Happy would be any executive who had a brush-off machine in his office to speed-up lingering callers. West German Postmaster-General Richard Stuecklen invented his own—labelling four hourglasses "introduction," "get to the point," "hurry up" and "finish." When the last grain flows through the neck in the last glass, Stuecklen's visitors are firmly but politely ushered out.

Shifting Ice Threat To North Pole Subs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Navy indicated yesterday the new submarine route under the North Pole may be blocked by shifting ice part of the year.

"The entrance to the Barrow Sea Valley, leading into the true Arctic basin, is only four or five miles wide and very restrictive," the navy said. "During the Arctic winter this 'lead' would be more difficult to penetrate due to shifting ice conditions."

New Cars 'Salty,' Junked

European car sales firm in Toronto wrecked 32 new cars from a shipment of 600 from Germany, because they were soaked in three feet of salt water when a hold in the ship transporting them was flooded.

Food Radioactivity Worse than Fallout

BURLINGTON, Vt. (CP)—A handful of Brazil nuts will give a person many thousand times as much radioactivity as he absorbs daily from the strontium 90 fall-out of nuclear tests, a British scientist said yesterday.

But he didn't see any harm in nibbling on the nuts.

Dr. R. C. Turner told delegates to the international congress of radiation research that food studies in London show a wide variation in the natural radioactive content of foods. Brazil nuts led other foods by a wide margin.

Dr. Turner said he wasn't condemning the nuts. There was no evidence anyone would be harmed by eating them, he said.

Other foods with heavy radioactive concentrations are cereals and shellfish. A bowl of breakfast cereal gives 10 times as much radioactivity as a person takes in from strontium 90 each day.

Credit Plan Murder Nipped in Bud

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — District Attorney Michael A. Hanna said Thursday a 31-year-old woman tried to have her husband killed for a $500 fee and made a down payment of $150 before she was arrested.

Mrs. William Miller, mother of a seven-year-old boy, pleaded guilty to a charge of solicitation to commit a felony. She was placed under $500 bond pending action by a grand jury.

Hanna said the woman told police she wanted her husband killed because she "thought she and her son would have a better life without him."

Hanna said a man Mrs. Miller approached and asked to shoot her husband during a fake robbery informed police, leading to her arrest.

'I Don't Believe in Anything' Girl Atheist, 12, Tells Judge

TORONTO (CP)—Magistrate Donald Graham was taken aback Thursday when a 12-year-old girl, about to take an oath in court, said she was an atheist.

He was questioning her to learn if she understood the nature of the oath and the consequences of telling a lie under oath.

"What church do you attend?" he asked.

"I don't."

"What religion are you?" he asked impatiently.

"I'm an atheist."

"You're an atheist?" he asked. "Is it against your conscientous scruples to take an oath?"

"No," said the girl. "I'll take the oath."

"And if you take the oath and don't tell the truth, do you know what will happen to you?" he continued.

"I'll be charged," said the girl.

"What do you mean by an atheist?" asked the magistrate.

"Don't you believe in heaven or hell?"

"No," replied the girl shaking her head.

"The fact she has no belief in a Supreme Being doesn't rule out this girl from being sworn," he said after asking a few more questions about her home life.

Taking the stand, the girl accused Roger Gouldby, 18, of assaulting her in his home last July 24 after another youth pushed her upstairs to the bedroom. Gouldby was committed for trial by judge and jury.

Teacher 'Imports' A Record

Teacher recruitment in the United Kingdom for B.C. schools this year has hit an all-time record.

Education Minister Leslie Peterson said yesterday that some 129 English school teachers had signed contracts to come to the province to teach by September although he added some would probably not fulfill their contracts.

Earlier this year Mr. Peterson said it was doubtful if any English teachers would come here this year as a result of advertisements in British newspapers outlining wage disputes between the B.C. Teachers' Federation and B.C. school boards.

He said yesterday that the number of elementary school teaching vacancies was a little better than at this time a year ago and that the secondary teacher situation was about the same.

Greatest number of vacancies, he said was in the central and northern interior.

At present there are about 250 vacancies in B.C.

100,000 Hear Attack

Polish Catholics Hit Back at Reds

CZESTOCHOVA, Poland (AP)—More than 100,000 Roman Catholic pilgrims knelt beneath the walls of Jasna Gora monastery yesterday and heard a monk call for their prayers against Communist attacks on their church.

Thousands more pilgrims were trooping into town every hour for a procession this evening honoring the Black Madonna, the mystic picture of Virgin and Child housed in the monastery.

The huge crowd stood silent as the monk, one of 35 Paulist who run the monastery, spoke from a pulpit high on the wall.

"The Polish press is writing very much about our church," he said. "One of the papers has insulted the Mother of God and our blessed picture."

"I call on you to pray for the rights of our church, to pray for atonement and for peace."

He announced that from Sept. 1, 40 Polish bishops will gather at the monastery for six days of continuous prayer as atonement for the Communist press campaign.

12-WEEK PROGRAM

This is part of a 12-week prayer program announced Monday by the Polish primate, Stefan Cardinal Wyszinski, who, postponed his expected appearance at the monastery until Aug. 26, annual feast of the Jasna Gora Virgin. A crowd of 500,000 is expected then.

Today's pilgrims had a dual celebration, the Feast of the Assumption—a national holiday in Poland—and the 38th anniversary of the Red army's defeat at the gates of Warsaw.

The Communist press appeared to have slowed down its attacks, presumably to avoid angering the overwhelmingly Catholic population at a time of religious festivals.

The only paper to mention the subject today, the organ of the Communist Youth League, reported 12 people jailed after a riot at a funeral of a Jehovah's Witness at Poryte, in northern Poland.

Paper Sued For Contempt

VANCOUVER (CP)—Contempt of court proceedings have been launched against the Vancouver Sun by lawyer J. R. Nicholson, counsel for H. Wilson Gray and two companies involved in the Sommers bribery-conspiracy trial.

Initial hearing has been set for Assize Court Aug. 20, five days before the lengthy trial revolving around former lands and forests minister Robert Sommers is due to reconvene.

Mr. Nicholson charges the newspaper's headlines last Monday over its report when Mr. Nicholson rested his case without calling H. Wilson Gray to testify in his own defence was prejudicial to Gray and the two companies with which he is connected.
